

Cookies Notice for the Student Learning Portal

Pacific Design Academy's Student Learning Portal (mypda.ca) uses cookies solely to operate the site and support essential platform functionality. We do not use advertising, analytics, or third-party tracking cookies. These cookies are essential for authentication, security, and system performance.

1. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored on your device when you visit a website. They allow the portal to recognize your browser and remember information such as your login status and preferences as you navigate between pages.

2. Cookies We Use

PDA uses the following essential cookies only:

- Session cookies — keep you securely logged in as you navigate the Student Learning Portal. These are deleted automatically when you close your browser.
- Preference cookies — remember your settings such as language and accessibility preferences between visits.

We do not use advertising cookies, marketing cookies, or any third-party tracking tools (such as Google Analytics or Meta Pixel).

3. Why These Cookies Are Necessary

The cookies used by PDA are strictly necessary for the Moodle Learning Management System to function. Without them, you would not be able to log in, access your courses, or submit assignments. As these are essential to the operation of the portal, they cannot be disabled.

4. Your Choices

You may clear cookies at any time through your browser settings. Please note that clearing cookies will log you out of the Student Learning Portal and you will need to sign in again. Instructions for managing cookies vary by browser:

- Google Chrome: Settings → Privacy and security → Clear browsing data
- Microsoft Edge: Settings → Privacy, search, and services → Clear browsing data
- Safari: Preferences → Privacy → Manage Website Data
- Mozilla Firefox: Options → Privacy & Security → Cookies and Site Data

5. More Information

For further information about how PDA collects and uses personal information, please refer to our Privacy Policy, available at mypda.ca.
